An Attorney General Opinion is a written interpretation of existing law. The Attorney General writes opinions as part of his responsibility to act as legal counsel for the State of Texas. Opinions are written only at the request of certain state officials. The Texas Government Code indicates to whom the Attorney General may provide a legal opinion. He may not write legal opinions for private individuals or for any officials other than those specified by statute. Re: Whether a school district board of trustees may post on the district website the personal financial statements of board members submitted pursuant to section 11.0641 of the Education Code (RQ-0053-KP)

S U M M A R Y

A court would likely conclude that it is within the discretion of a school board of trustees subject to section 11.0641 of the Education Code to post on the district's website the personal financial statements of member trustees required by that section. Under section 11.0641, a majority of the board of trustees may require the posting of the personal financial statement of an individual trustee over the trustee's objections.
